VINTAGE SUMMARY 2008

2008 marks a landmark year - our first vintage. The growing season was perfect. Enough rain in the spring to give us good moisture levels in the ground and together with warm temperatures ensured the canopies remained in good health. Fruit set was excellent. The weather continued to be a classic for Central Otago, with warm dry conditions continuing well into the season. Yields were managed to a very moderate average of 2.0 kg per vine following extensive shoot thinning, leaf plucking and fruit thinning; this also helped ensure the young vines remained in balance. Cooler nights closer to harvest slowed the ripening process but gave us the diurnal variation in temperatures that makes for great Pinot Noir. We began harvest on the 1st April. Harvest proceeded over a two week period; each clone picked separately and at an optimal level of ripeness. Harvest was completed on the 14th April.
